

FRANCE, BELGIUM AND ITALY ACCEPT PRINCIPLE OF THE CONFERENCE OF EXPERTS

Preliminary Meeting To Discuss Reparations Problem May Lead To Large Council Of Allied Statesmen—Opinions Of French And German Newspapers

London, Oct. 26.—The willingness of the United States to lend her advice and co-operation in a conference for the settlement of the German reparations problem seems to have lighted Europe out of the slough of depression.

The British invitation and the reply of the United States stressing the imperative need of finding a suitable financial plan to prevent economic disaster in Europe, found prompt echoes in Paris, Brussels and Rome, for it became known late this afternoon at the British Foreign Office that France, Belgium and Italy had all accepted the principle of an advisory conference of experts.

While the British authorities would have preferred a full conference of ministers to liquidate the reparations troubles they hope the preliminary conference of experts will lead to a larger council of allied statesmen.

France's consent to enter the advisory conference of experts will involve the question of acceptance of the United States principle that the inter-allied debt and German reparations must be divorced, a point upon which had differed from Great Britain and the United States.

Question of Reduction of Indemnity

France will also have to face the question of reducing the amount of indemnity expected from Germany under the Versailles Treaty, which in the past has been fixed at 6,600,000,000 pounds sterling or 132 billion gold marks. This sum and the question of granting a moratorium to Germany were the points which led to the failure of the last expert commission of which J. P. Morgan was the United States member.

If, as the British Government anticipates, Mr. Poincaré agrees to these and other conditions it will then remain only for the nations participating in the conference to appoint their experts and formulate a program of procedure.

British officials seem to favor Berlin as the principal seat of the conference as this would make Germany's books and records more accessible to the experts who are to appraise Germany's assets and her capacity to redeem her indemnity obligations.

Moral Offensive Against France.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—The exchange of notes between Great Britain and the United States on the reparations question and the speeches of Premier Baldwin and General Smuts are prominently featured in the German press and while the editorial appraisal of the triple discussion are as yet non-committal, the papers are generally agreed that it constitutes a moral offensive against France.

In the opinion of Die Zeit which usually reflects the government attitude the utterances of the British statesmen and the exchange of views between London and Washington plainly indicate that Great Britain during the last few months has devoted her efforts to reconstructing the foreign policy in the direction of establishing a firmly co-ordinated front against French imperialistic policies. The newspaper believes Secretary Hughes' observation that the proposed conference might fail because of the lack of necessary unanimity on the part of European powers and that the United States Government in that case would reserve its final decision in proof positive that Washington clearly perceives the motives of the French policy. RIOTS, STRIKES AND BLOODSHED IN RHINELAND

Several Men Are Killed When Mob Seized Krupp Works At Essen

SEVERAL STRIKES

It Is Generally Claimed In Germany French Are Helping The Separatists

Berlin, Oct. 26.—Official quarters in Berlin are anything but sanguine over the outcome of the present situation in the Rhineland. According to views expressed here the French are giving the Separatists a greater measure of open support and protection than previously had been the case. The entire press of Aix-la-Chapelle has ceased publication because of the censorial interference which, it is alleged, precludes the printing of current views and untrammelled editorial utterances.

Dr. Von Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, replying today to various inquiries whether the dispute of Bavaria with the Berlin Government was amenable to negotiation asserted that he would reject all negotiations with the present Reich Government.

While the Central Government is doing nothing against Bavaria, the Reichswehr is displaying great energy in Saxony, arresting Socialists and Communists and searching their houses.

Expressed Indignation

The Reichswehr have actually arrested various Government commissioners, including a high police official at Dresden, where they also have occupied police headquarters. Premier Zeisinger in impugning these facts to the Saxon Diet today expressed indignation. He said that possibly some day the Ministers themselves would find that they were under arrest.

The Social Democratic party of the Bavarian Palatinate today issued a statement explaining that a breach in the constitution by the Bavarian Government and the measures of the Separatists has driven them to the decision to establish the Palatinate as an independent State within the Reich, but that the disapproval of the Reich Government and opposition in the Palatinate itself has caused the party to abandon the attempt to realize its plans.

Reported to be Gaining

The Rhineland Separatists are reported to have gained a footing in the Eifel Hills, seizing the office of the Burgomaster and the District Councillor at Gerolstein (about 45 miles southwest of Coblenz and about the same distance south of Duren).—Authority is in the hands of civic guards, composed of various ranks and unemployed, the majority of whom are said to have been released from the service of the Franco-Belgian regime for the purpose.

Are Aiding Separatists

Coblenz, Oct. 26.—Open and active French support enabled the Rhineland republic today to extend its hold over numerous small towns and villages. French and Belgian troops enlarged their political activities in Republican controlled towns and quickly suppressed disorders growing out of attempts by the loyalists to throw out the Separatist groups.

Joseph Mathes and his supporters in the Separatist movement seized the town of Coblenz which became the capital of the new Republic overnight, when the French military cordon kept "loyalists" out of the streets while the Separatists who previously had been driven from the town returned and marched down the streets past the French sentries and took over the Government building.

Mob Seizes Krupp Works

London, Oct. 26.—A mob of several thousand unemployed seized the Krupp works at Essen today and barricaded themselves in the main buildings, says a despatch to the Daily Express from Essen. At least seven persons were killed and two badly wounded in a desperate fight with the blue police who are described as inadequate to deal with the situation.

One Hundred Were Killed

Berlin, Oct. 26.—One hundred persons were killed in the street fighting in Hamburg Tuesday and Wednesday, the full report on the disorders show. An equal number of demonstrators were wounded.

Several Strikes

Paris, Oct. 26.—Despatches from Brussels report that the men in most of the German mines in Upper Silesia have ceased work and are demanding that their wages be paid in stable currency, and that they be given grants of food and clothing.

Hamburg messages today say shipyard workers were still on strike.

LARGE NUMBERS OF EMIGRANTS

London, Oct. 26.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—A majority of the thousand passengers who sailed for Quebec and Montreal aboard the Doric today were emigrants. A party of one hundred in the care of the Salvation Army included a seven-year-old boy, Stanley O'Dell, who is travelling alone 3,500 miles from his home in Jersey to his uncle in Halifax. There are also parties from continental countries among whom is the Russian boy Harwita

LOOKING FOR A SOLUTION OF CATTLE EMBARGO

British And Canadian Representatives Will Hold Another Meeting In Future

UNFAIR TO CANADA

Present Regulations Interpreted Differently At Different Ports It Is Claimed

London, Oct. 26.—(By Geo. Hamilton)—Representatives of the British and the Canadian Governments are to meet together to see if some basic standard agreeable to both countries could not be reached for the admission of Canadian cattle into Great Britain.

This was another phase of the long battle which occupied the attention of the economic conference today. After much effort the embargo against the admission of Canadian stoke cattle was removed, but so it is claimed by Canadian authorities, the regulations under which they are now admitted do much to nullify the effect of the removal of the embargo. And that was the point the Canadian representatives pressed today.

Both Premier King and Hon. G. P. Graham spoke in the presentation of the Canadian case. Their main contentions were:—

Main Contentions.

(1) That the British Act of Parliament had not completely carried out the agreement reached between the British and the Canadian Governments in that the act restricted the cattle to be admitted to shores although the Act had a clause providing for the admission of breeding cattle by a standing order of the Board of Agriculture.

(2) Breeding cattle, however, were not admitted because the Board of Agriculture refused to issue the necessary standing order. The point was taken that not only were the present regulations unfair to Canada but they were interpreted differently at different ports.

Stigma on Canadian Cattle

Mr. Graham argued that the present interpretation of the regulations was apt to cast a stigma on Canadian cattle. Stockers were classed as fat and had to be slaughtered under the Disease of Animals Act.

This in itself created a bad impression. In addition, these half fattened cattle were sold as Canadian beef thus injuring Canada's reputation.

Premier King said Canada had been very grateful for the removal of the embargo, observing that in recognition, the British preferential tariff in Canada had been cut ten percent of the rate on goods imported directly through Canadian ports. He strongly urged a revision of the cattle regulations.

Premier Bruce of Australia objected that Canada was getting all the advantage of the advance over the other Dominions was largely a paper one as Australia and South Africa could not ship cattle in large quantities to Great Britain. The representatives of other Dominions also strongly resented the underlying implication that when cattle were slaughtered under the Disease of Animals Act they were diseased.

No Implication Intended

In reply it was stated on behalf of the British Government that such an implication had not been intended. Sir Robert Sanders, president of the Board of Agriculture, admitting that a case had been made in regard to the regulations which should be investigated. He claimed, however, that the agreement between the Canadian and the British Governments regarding the embargo had been carried out. Respecting the addition of breeding cattle he stressed the position of the old country livestock man. He suggested the exchange of pedigreed livestock a suggestion that was welcomed by the conference generally. Previous to the conference had discussed Empire currency. In the Canada was only incidentally interested as the discussion turned chiefly on rates of exchange between the Dominions using sterling currency and Great Britain.

It was claimed that the difference between the buying and selling rates of exchange in such Dominions often reached as high as three or four percent. Empire currency bills were among the various schemes suggested to meet the situation but they were apparently not favored. It was observed in passing that the difference between the buying and the selling rates of exchange in Canada was practically normal. A committee of experts will investigate the whole question of Empire currency Canada to have a representative.

LYOYD GEORGE MEETS HUGHES AT HIS HOME

Former Premier Of Great Britain Discusses Reparations With Secretary

DISTINCT ADVANCE

Toward A Solution Of The Problem By Recent Exchange Of Communications

Washington, Oct. 26.—Lloyd George, war-time Premier of Great Britain devoted today, his second day in Washington, chiefly to pilgrimages to Arlington National Cemetery and Mount Vernon and to a call upon the disabled soldiers at Waltered Hospital, public questions did not escape his attention.

The reparations situation, in the light of latest developments attracted his interest and to-night he conferred with Secretary Hughes at the latter's home for an hour.

Invited to Mr. Hughes' residence an hour in advance of others who attended a dinner given in honor of the distinguished visitor, the two had opportunity to discuss questions in which they are mutually interested. Although no statement was made concerning the conversation, it was assumed that the latest phase of the reparations question, as well as other matters of public interest, was discussed.

Throughout the day the reparations situation held the interest of the former Premier. Walking from his hotel suite to breakfast with William Jennings Bryan he remarked to friends:—"Those are remarkably interesting telegrams between Lord Curzon and Secretary Hughes in the newspaper".

In conference with newspaper correspondents, he spoke hopefully of the situation and indicated that on the basis of the latest advices from Europe he believed a distinct advance had been made toward a solution of the problem. Once an investigation is begun into Germany's capacity to pay, he declared, he would be hopeful of a successful outcome.

Very Hopeful of Solution

There is no necessity of going outside the Versailles Treaty in reaching a solution, Mr. Lloyd George asserted adding that if France desired to keep the question within "the four corners of the treaty", he saw no objection to such a course.

There would be no substantial difference, he explained, whether the investigation was conducted by an independent commission outside the treaty or by an impartial commission under authority of the Reparations Commission, so long as the investigating body was composed of business men or experts of proven ability who actually represented the powers and who had the confidence of the world. The moral force of any report represented by such a group he contended, would give it a momentum that could not be successfully resisted.

The value of a Commission of business men in the circumstances, Mr. Lloyd George added, would be in their political disinterestedness.

Also he said, a businessman has a way of arriving at conclusions almost by instinct.

Paid Homage to War Dead

At both Arlington and Mount Vernon, Mr. Lloyd George paid homage to the memory of the war dead. Accompanied by Secretary Weeks of the War Department he went to the Amphitheatre at the cemetery and bareheaded approached the tomb of the unknown soldier upon which he placed a simple wreath without inscription.

After standing silently a moment, he retraced his steps to his automobile and was driven to the mansion, which Robert E. Lee left to go to the civil war.

At the cemetery limits Secretary Weeks left the distinguished guest who was also accompanied by Dame Margaret and Miss Lloyd George and with Sir Wm. Sutherland, Col. Owens of Montreal, and other members of his party, the former Premier proceeded to Mount Vernon. There after inspecting in detail the home and estate he went to the tomb of George Washington and placed a wreath, also without inscription on the sarcophagus.

In the afternoon the former Premier attended a tea given by Henry Cesty Chilton, Charge d'Affaires of the British Embassy at which he met many members of the Diplomatic corps as well as officials of the United States Government.

Visited Great War Veterans

Going late in the day, in company with Secretary Weeks to Walter Reed Hospital, he passed through wards in which disabled war veterans lay quietly and at the Red Cross Auditorium met others who had gathered to greet him.

Speaking in a low voice and with every evidence of deep emotion the war-time Premier thanked them for their contribution "to the freedom of Europe and the freedom of the world".

Mr. Lloyd George will leave by automobile early to-morrow for a visit to Gettysburg and after returning will speak to-morrow night at a dinner of overseas writers and an organization of Washington newspaper correspondents.

Wisdom is a good purchase, though we pay dear for it.

WILL "HUSTLE UP" PROCEEDINGS IN THE COURTS

Cases Against Home Bank Directors And Officers Taken To Grand Jury

TRIAL IN JANUARY

Charged With Conspiracy To Defraud And Wilfully Making False Returns

Toronto, Oct. 26.—The Crown on the advice of the Attorney-General effected a surprise movement in the prosecution against the accused directors and officers of the Home Bank, when their cases were taken before the Grand Jury in the Supreme Court without having been committed for trial in Police Court. The procedure, according to Crown Attorney Eric Armour, K.C., is provided for in the statutes and it puts an end to the "hustle up" proceedings, he explained.

The Assize grand jury returned true bills against all the defendants who appeared in Police Court, charged them on two indictments, namely, conspiracy and making a false prospectus and making false returns.

The proceedings today were initiated by D. L. McCarthy, K.C., special prosecutor for the Attorney-General.

Mr. McCarthy asked Justice Mowat to name a date for the trial and he requested Mr. McCarthy to place the request before Justice Kelly who sits in the Assizes next week.

Trial to be Held in January

Mr. McCarthy took the step of indicting all the accused before the Grand Jury in order to prevent election of trial by any other court than before a jury. The accused will all appear next Thursday before the Court and will be granted bail to appear for trial at the next Assize in January.

Two charges have been preferred—one under section 444 of the Criminal Code and one under section 114 of the Criminal Code.

This has nothing at all to do with any charge that might have been made under section 153 of the Bank Act. Other charges that have been made against the accused are automatically dropped and charges of conspiracy to defraud and of wilfully making false returns to the Government on which they have been indicted are the only ones that will stand. The charge of conspiracy enables the Crown Prosecutor to go into every detail of the loans of the companies in which the directors were interested and strengthen the charge of wilfully making false returns to the Department of Finance concerning the affairs of the bank.

Remand Until 2nd of November

The indicted men are H. J. Daly, President; R. P. Gough, Vice-President; Casey Wood, K.C.; J. F. M. Stewart, F. J. B. Russell, C. A. Barnard, L. Col. Clarence Smith, directors; S. H. Jones, Auditor; A. E. Clavert, Acting General Manager, and O. G. Smith, Chief Accountant.

All except Daly had appeared in Police Court this morning and they were again formally remanded, at the request of the Crown, until Nov. 2. Mr. Gough did not answer when his name was called the first time. He appeared ten minutes later with his bondsmen.

True bills were brought in by the Assizes grand jury today.

NEW GOV.-GENERAL FOR SOUTH AFRICA

RUINS OF ANCIENT CITY DISCOVERED IN ITALY

The Earl Of Athlone Will Succeed Prince Arthur Of Connaught

May Have Antedated Romans By More Than A Thousand Years

London, Oct. 26.—(Can. Press Cable)—Announcement was made today of the appointment of the Earl of Athlone as the Governor-General of South Africa, succeeding Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Alexander August Frederick William Alfred George Cambridge was a brother of Queen Mary and was created the first Earl of Athlone in 1917. He was born Viscount Trematon in 1874 at Kensington Palace and was the third son of the late Duke of Teck and the late princess Mary Adelaide. The new Governor-General of South Africa is a soldier and among his many decorations for war service, by a strange coincidence is the distinguished service order obtained for service in the South African war, following which the Boer republic became part of the British Empire. He served in the more recent European war and rose to the rank of Brigadier General. The Countess of Athlone was Princess Alice of Albany.

The English address of the Earl of Athlone is the Henry the Third Tower, Windsor Castle.

Ferrera, Italy, Oct. 26.—Ruins of an entire ancient city believed to antedate the Romans by perhaps a thousand years have been discovered near here.

More than a hundred tombs have been uncovered, together with the remains of a number of persons buried in them. There are traces also of an immense temple, fragments of which are being placed together in an effort to decipher the markings and trace the origin of the city. Wearing apparel and numerous jewels and vase with elaborate artistic designs resembling Greek forms were found in the tombs.

Some experts point out that it may be an Etruscan city, the language of which is still unknown as no traces are left to form sufficient material as a basis for translation while others believe it to be the ancient town of Siana.

Let Canada be true to her first syllable, "Can."

They can do least who boast loudly.

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 27, 1923.

CANADA IS TRUSTLESS.

Canadian newspapers of Conservative tendencies are having huge fun with that estimable personage, the Minister of Labor, over the anti-climax in which his "witch-hunt" for wicked combines has terminated. His would be a soured spirit indeed who grudged the editorial writers their moment of hilarity, but, more seriously and from the point of view of Canadian interests it is a source of satisfaction that the absence from its commercial organism of pernicious trusts should have been so conclusively established.

The Ottawa Journal sums up the incident in picturesque fashion thus:

The scales are falling from the eyes of the Honorable James Murdock, the Liberal Minister of Labor. Two years ago, when an election was in progress, Mr. Murdock was mightily troubled. He discerned the plain people ground down by the "invisible hand" of plutocratic government. With what Mr. Meighen once termed "perspiring eloquence" he thundered against the "mergers, trusts and combines" that were sucking the life-blood of the masses; against the Conservative puppets who, at the bidding of Montreal mandarins of finance, were fleeing the many for the benefit of the few; and he promised that if only Providence and a public revolt should combine to place him in office he would bring the people out of bondage and send the plunderers to jail.

Well, Providence, or something, put Mr. Murdock into office; what happened? It is (for the poor masses) a tale of tears. Sir Charles Gordon, of the Dominion Textiles, who was to have been sent to jail, was sent as our representative to Genoa instead; the cost of living, which had been declining for three months prior to Liberal victory, began to increase, and is higher today than when Mr. Murdock took power; the Riordon taxes (how Mr. Murdock did foam about them!) remained uncollected; and the plutocrats remained within their oak-paneled offices and clubs instead of prison cells.

And now comes a communicate, or apology, from Mr. Murdock which tells its own sad story. Says a bulletin from the Labor Department:

"A large number of complaints of illegal trade combines, mostly in the grocery and produce trade, have been investigated by the Department of Labor during the two months that the Combines Investigation Act has been in existence. Although careful individual investigation was carried out in each complaint, no evidence of any actual combine was revealed, and it was not found necessary to appoint commissioners to complete the inquiries."

CONVINCING TESTIMONIALS.

Reports from ex-officers and other ranks of the British army who have come to Canada to take up land are reaching the head office of the Soldier Settlement Board. They indicate that these new settlers are finding conditions to their liking, and that they are well satisfied with the welcome extended by the Government and the people of Canada.

No time was lost in getting these Imperials located on good farms where they will spend a year or two gaining experience. In a few cases they have actually purchased land and have begun operations on their own account.

Excerpts from a couple of letters follow. They express appreciation of the value of the services rendered by Soldier Settlement Board officials in guiding movements since their arrival in Canada, thus helping them to avoid many of the mistakes of immigrants who attempt to gain a firm footing in a strange country without the aid of friends or acquaintances.

"I feel that I should place on record," writes Captain A. G. Defries, from North River, P.E.I., to the S.S.B. field supervisor at Charlottetown, "the wonderful treatment accorded to me from the moment of my arrival at St. John in July. No trouble or kindness seems too much in getting one located and the courtesy and consideration shown was certainly more than I could have hoped for. Not one moment was lost and I was passed on from St. John to Prince Edward Island, where on arrival I was at once taken on a tour of inspection of the district, until I found a locality to suit me. The advice and assistance given was very valuable, and once I had chosen a location the way small difficulties which arose were overcome very remarkably."

"If, as I feel sure, the rest of my dealings with the Board are as happy as those at the beginning have been, then I am sure that the good words I hear from settlers on every hand here in regard to their treatment—in some cases right from the beginning of the operation of the Soldier Settlement Act—are quite in accordance with the facts."

Another Old Country settler who has been established on his own farm near Vanderhoof, B.C., after having spent two years working on a farm, writes commending the action of the Soldier Settlement Board in stressing the importance of two full years with an experienced farmer before being allowed to take up land for himself.

Arthur E. Bennett followed the occupation of "hatter" in the Old Country, and on his arrival in Vancouver he was sent to the Vanderhoof district where he found employment with a bachelor soldier settler who also was able to employ Mr. Bennett's wife in household duties. After a short time Mr. Bennett applied to purchase the adjoining farm, but his application was not granted as his experience was not deemed sufficient. He completed his training and last spring applied to purchase a farm three and a half miles from Vanderhoof with over 80 acres of cleared land. The option price was $5,500, but the Board succeeded in purchasing the farm for $4,000 with all the spring crop in without additional cost to the settler. When a good crop of grain and hay this year was assured the Board purchased for him a nice herd of cows and a good team of horses. Writing on October 4 to the Board, Mr. Bennett says:

"I would like to thank you for the way in which you have dealt with me through my stay in the country; also the straightforward way in which you have conducted all business for me. I could not quite understand when I came out why so much stress was placed on two years with an experienced farmer before I was allowed to take up land for myself, but now I fully agree with it as I know from personal experience it is in the best interests of the settler. I would strongly advise anyone who is coming to this country to stay at least two years working for someone else, as he gains considerably by so doing. You will be quite at liberty to use this letter if it will be of any use to you in your endeavor to secure new settlers for the country, as perhaps it will help, being from one who has gone through the training."

THE PROGRESS OF THE RHINELAND SEPARATIST MOVEMENT

The French press gives the following information about the Separatist movement in the Rhineland:

The three Separatist parties of the Rhineland—Matthes, Dorten and Smeets—have decided, according to French press reports, to merge and to conduct together the fight for the independence of the Rhineland. The Separatist, Matthes, who belongs to the "social democratic" recently sent to the French newspaper Eclair a programme in which he declared that the Reich wants to keep the arsenal of the Ruhr to prepare for the war of revenge, and to make the Rhineland a center of concentration for Prussia-Germany.

"Prussia," said he, "has but one aim to-day: to free herself from the obligations of the Treaty of Versailles, in order to afterwards re-establish here hegemony and her political dictatorship."

"That is why she decreed the war of the Ruhr under the form of passive resistance. She also hopes to defer or to avoid the critical periods when payments fall due. But in order to put this plan into operation, Prussia needs the Rhineland." Without the Rhine and the Ruhr, there is no possibility of revenge for her. Hence all the actions of the Stresemann-Hilferding cabinet are dictated by the fear of losing us."

Mr. Matthes then warned France against the misleading speeches of Chancellor Stresemann, and asked France to help the Rhineland to lose its Prussian characteristics, in order to put a check to the progress of the Prussian policy of expansion.

"What we want," he said, "is an economical equilibrium, both abroad and in the interior; we want a free Rhineland to become a peaceable barrier between Prussia, Russia and the Western States. We are opposed to the policy of passive resistance, advocated by Prussia in accordance with her secret thoughts of revenge which deceive no one; consequently we demand the expulsion of all the partisans of 'sabotage' of labor and of peace, who for eight months have lived at the expense of the inhabitants of the Rhineland. Those who do not work with us have no right to live in the Rhineland."

"What we also want, is to keep for ourselves the money obtained from our taxes and contributions. This money must be used for the actual needs of the Rhineland and to pay our share of the reparations. We are tired of seeing our personal resources dumped into 'the sieve of Berlin.'"

Matthes then suggested the erection of Rheno-Westphalia, as a neutral and independent republic, whose constitution would model itself on that of Switzerland.

The Separatist movement is now receiving encouragement from the Belgian Catholic party, which hitherto has looked upon it with scorn. Proof of this is found in an article devoted to the Rhineland problem, by the former Minister, Carton de Wiart, who declares that, when the war came to an end, the Allies—who believed that the Rhineland populations were going to throw themselves in their arms for national or historical reasons, tracing back to the Gauls—evinced a great "naivete." He claims that the Republic of Dr. Dorten and of General Mangin lived only the duration of an oprette and reaped, in Rhineland, more hisses than applause. Since that time, the different Separatist movements have not ceased to encounter serious opposition on the part of the majority of the inhabitants of the Rhineland.

However, he admits that the present sufferings have supplied the Separatists with new arguments: The "los von Berlin," he writes, is no longer a political pass-word. It becomes more and more an economical and somewhat alimentary theme.

"Discouraged by the continuance and the increasing seriousness of a crisis of which they do not see the end, and understanding that England cannot by herself put an end to this crisis, and that France and Belgium resolutely maintain their policy of reparations, the inhabitants of the Rhineland are losing courage, one after the other."

From this situation, Mr. Carton de Wiart concludes that it is the obvious interest of the Reich to do its best to obtain an agreement on the question of reparations. According to him, only the settlement of the question of reparations "can restore the Rhineland question to a normal state." If present conditions do not last, he foresees the coming of a less painful and radical formula for the Reich than that of separation, a formula that seems at any rate to have his preference: for example, the formation of a Rhineland "almost autonomous," even though it be part of the German Reich. This solution, it is claimed, would meet with great sympathy in German political parties other than the "Social Democrats" and would facilitate relations with Switzerland, Belgium, the Luxemburg and the Netherlands.

This formula, however, which Mr. Carton de Wiart seems to consider as the only logical one, the only one which will triumph "when the Rhineland movement has passed the feverish period" through which it is passing, already seems too narrow for the groups which demand the independence of the Rhineland and the limits to which the movement will go have yet to be determined.

Judging by an exchange of compliments, some of our local contemporaries have nothing to learn in the matter of journalistic enterprise.

Anything that increases to the farmer the price of wheat by even two or three cents a bushel, with one hundred million bushels or so for shipment, means much in the aggregate. If the Province had had a revenue of $3,000,000 more this year, its troubles would not have been so serious.

FACT TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET IN RUSSIA IS AIM OF JUGOSLAVIA.

Belgrade, Oct. 26.—M. Balughitch, Yugoslavian minister to Greece, who recently negotiated the working agreement between Yugoslavia and Greece, concerning the free Yugoslavian zone of Salonica, is now in Berlin, where he is looking into the possibilities of negotiating with Russian Commissioners a treaty for the recognition of Soviet Russia, the first agreement of its kind to be effected with any European power. It is predicted here that M. Balughitch's mission will be successful.

Two years ago Yugoslavia, by the passage of a "defence of the realm" law, outlawed the Communist movement completely. It is felt here the ban on the right of assemblage enforced vigorously since then with one important exception, when the government permitted the holding of a Communist mass meeting in this city to protest against the repression of the Communists in Bulgaria, has suppressed the Yugoslavian Communists sufficiently to make them a negligible quantity politically.

Against the modified Communism of Russia, as practiced in that country, however, Premier Pashitch is not irreconcilably disposed. It is felt, also, that the solution of the Slavic problem is impossible without the active participation of the greatest Slavic power, Russia. Premier Pashitch is evidently convinced, also, that the moral help of Russia would go far toward answering the Macedonian question.

There are seven Russian commissars in Berlin, qualified to negotiate with M. Balughitch, and on his departure to that city the minister to Greece took ample instructions with him looking to a reconciliation between Yugoslavia and Soviet Russia.

EGYPTIAN HARBORS BEING DEVELOPED.

Cairo, Oct. 26.—A big scheme of development for Egyptian harbors has been decided upon and a first credit of £220,000 has been opened for the Ministry of Communications to start on the work. This sum will be absorbed by the construction of better facilities for handling oils and inflammable stores at Alexandria and Suez. It is expected that the total sum to be spent will be at least £2,000,000, a considerable part of which will go to equip Egypt's ports with up-to-date tackle for loading and discharging of cargo vessels. The absence of such machinery involves much wasted time for shipping using the ports.

It is also proposed to deepen Alexandria Harbor considerably, to make it possible for the biggest vessels afloat to come alongside the quays instead of, as now happens when any ship of more than 20,000 tons visits Alexandria, lying in the outer harbor and disembarking her passengers by means of lighters.

Q.S.A.C. RUGBY TEAM WILL BE AT FULL STRENGTH FOR GAME WITH MCGILL JUNIORS

Squads Will Clash in Return Match on Belvedere Grounds At 2.30 O'Clock This Afternoon—Play Rain Or Shine—Visitors Arrive This Morning

The Quebec Swimming and Athletic Club will play their second home game of the season this afternoon on the Belvedere Grounds when they meet the McGill University Juniors. Great interest is being manifested in the game, and it is very probable that last week's attendance record will be eclipsed.

It will be remembered that when these two teams met in Montreal a fortnight ago, the encounter resulted in a 11-8 victory for the Swimmers after a hard-fought game. The locals have continued their training and have practiced hard since then and will fight hard to maintain their undefeated record.

HIGH IN STUDIES AND ATHLETICS

Harvard Has Athlete Who is Rapidly Making Name For Himself

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 26—Athlete in scholastic difficulties have always been the bane of the college coaches' lives, but there is a man on the Harvard squad this season who gives Coach Fisher no concern on that score.

Coming to Harvard with no preparatory school experience in football, Dunker decided to try for his freshman team, and made it. He went out for the track team, running on the relay four in the winter and putting the shot in the spring. He was elected captain. During his first year he received 5 A's in his courses.

Starting his sophomore year with the ambition of getting on the first football squad, Dunker exceeded his own hopes by making the varsity team as tackle and winning second place in the shot-put in the annual meet with the Elis. His marks in his four courses were again the highest obtainable.

INDIA TO COMPETE IN THE OLYMPIAD

Calcutta, Oct. 26—India will be one of the competitors in the Olympic games to take place in Paris in 1924 if plans inaugurated by Lord Lytton, governor of Bengal, are carried out.

Harvesters HAD NARROW ESCAPE Nineteen People Injured, Four Seriously In Train Wreck Near Savanne

Fort William, Ont., Oct. 26.—Arrangement at the miraculous escape they had from death or injury was expressed by passengers in the seven colonial cars of train No. 4 of the Canadian Pacific Railway which were derailed near Savanne, Ontario, early today, on their arrival here this evening.

Arrangements had been made by the railway authorities to care for the injured, six of whom were stretched on stretchers and taken to a hospital. Nineteen persons were injured, four seriously, according to the latest compilation of casualties, who, with one exception, were harvesters returning to the East.

One of the colonial cars, which had turned across the track, was splintered into kindling wood, the trucks from other coaches having been driven underneath and forced right through the floor.

The Hague, Oct. 26—The Government's naval bill providing for the construction of a fleet for the Dutch East Indies, was defeated in the second Chamber of the Parliament today on a close vote of 49 to 50.

It is expected the rejection of the measure will lead to the resignation of the cabinet.

ANOTHER RUGBY CONTEST TODAY

Quebec High School Squad Will Try Conclusions With St. Patrick's A. A.

The players of the St. Patrick's A. A. Rugby team will receive their first baptism of fire on the gridiron this afternoon when they take the field against the Quebec High School Squad. The game will commence at 2:30 and will be played on a St. Louis Road field.

Both teams are new to the game this season, though the High School squad has it on the "Saints" as they have had one game so far this season, having played a draw with Commissioners High School last Saturday while St. Pat's have not as yet been on the field, though they have had a number of indoor practices at which they were taught the art of tackling, and the game in general.

However, everybody has to be taught a game before they come to know all about it, and the game today will do more good for both squads than ten indoor practices.

The players who will figure in this game are the following: St. Pat's A. A.—Flying wing, McCall; right half, McCauley; left half, Amy; centre half, Scott; quarter, Home. The line will be chosen from the following players: Brown, Cullen, Brodie, Dinan, Scott, Lawson, Kerr, Addie, Stevens and Mooney.

Mr. Rupert Matthews will referee the game.

FRANCE, BELGIUM AND ITALY ACCEPT PRINCIPLE

(Continued from Page One) The mask and declared he would not make any payment while the Ruhr and the Rhine are occupied. The Rhine? We are there by virtue of the treaty of Versailles, which I presume you have no intention of tearing up.

"The Ruhr? I have always said I was ready to evacuate it progressively, as payments were made, but this Stresemann would not do."

The Journal des Debats ridicules the idea of examining Germany's books to fix reparations, for it says, "the problem is not a question of figures but a conflict of wills."

"Why call a conference," the newspaper adds, "to draft a new schedule of payments which would be no better executed than that of May 1921?"

"Anyway," it declares, "the reservations of the United States destroy all the value of their participation."

All the newspapers reproach Great Britain for not having followed France into the Ruhr. In this connection the Journal des Debats remarks:—

Successive Government Errors. "The error of the successive British governments since the conclusion of peace has been constantly to adjure despoiled France, instead of notifying guilty Germany that the Allies would not tolerate her evasion."

Chancellor Stresemann, this organ continues, ceased passive resistance "not so that he could put Germany in a condition to pay but in order to shift to our shoulders the costs of a resumption of work in the occupied territory."

"France," declares M. Bainville, in La Liberté, "might afford to listen to Premier Baldwin's plea if they would give our British friends any pleasure but a conference will result in nothing. We can say that in all certainty in advance."

and within the specific terms of the treaty of Versailles. Italian and Belgian Acceptance. Presumably that stipulation also marked the Italian and Belgian acceptances.

It is understood that the French Government has pointed out to the London Foreign Office that it is only under the specific authority of the treaty which permits the reparations commission at need to call in expert advice that it could see any way to bring about the proposed economic study of Germany's resources.

Should the indicated acceptances result in the formation of such an advisory commission of experts, not only the United States members but those representing the Allied governments probably would be appointed only with the approval of their respective governments as the proportion is understood here.

Favored in League Circles. Geneva, Oct. 26—The proposal to hold a conference on reparations is heartily favored in League of Nations circles. Indirectly but warmly, the proposal was strongly supported at today's session of the international labor conference when the labor leaders, headed by E. L. Pouton, British delegate, laid emphasis on the urgency of remedial economic measures for Europe if mankind is to be saved from annihilation.

SCATTERED WAR DEAD OF FRANCE TO REST IN NATIONAL CEMETERIES
Paris, Oct. 26—The French government is beginning the vast undertaking of exhuming its scattered war dead and concentrating the bodies in national cemeteries after the American plan. It is a far greater task than the one the American Graves Registration Mission has completed. In some sectors, such as the Argonne and around the Saint Mihiel salient, a great many were brought together in military cemeteries, but elsewhere, along the whole battle front, from the Swiss frontier to the North Sea, bodies of soldiers that were killed in the trenches were buried where they fell.

Scattered German dead are also being gathered into large cemeteries by the French, under an agreement with the German government. The German cemeteries that existed at the end of the war are all being cared for by the French authorities, who issue special permits to German families to visit the graves of their dead in France.

SEAMEN WERE ENTERTAINED

Men Of Empress Of Britain And Canadian Planter Spent Enjoyable Time

An enjoyable time was spent at the Seamen's Institute last evening when the men of the Empress of Britain and the Canadian Planter were entertained by the ladies of the Institute. A remarkably fine musical programme was rendered, to which a number of the guests themselves contributed. This consisting of songs, recitations and musical selections. Mr. William Sharples, who performed the duties of chairman in his usual happy style, also gave several recitations which brought down the "house." The vocalists were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Wm. Sharples in a very capable manner. Following the concert refreshments were served by Mrs. Murray and Miss Henderson, assisted by the ladies of the Committee, and the guests did full justice to the delectable things provided for them, and a very pleasant evening was brought to a close with three cheers for the ladies, three more for the chairman and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem.

THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS

Almost Always Due to Weak and Impoverished Blood.

Apart from accident or illness due to infection, almost all ill-health arises from one or two reasons. The mistake that people make is in not realizing that both of these have the same cause at the root, namely poor blood. Either bloodlessness or some other trouble of the nerves will be found to be the reason for almost every ailment. If you are pale, suffering from headaches, or breathlessness, with palpitation of the heart, poor appetite and weak digestion, the cause is almost always poor blood. If you have nervous headaches, neuralgia, sciatica and other nerve pains, the cause is exhausted nerves. But run down nerves are also a result of poor blood, so that the two chief causes of illness are one and the same.

If your health is poor; if you are pale, nervous or dyspeptic, you should give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. These pills act directly on the blood, and by enriching it give new strength to worn out nerves. Men and women alike greatly benefit through the use of this medicine. If you are weak or ailing, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will be pleased with the beneficial results that will speedily follow. If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AMBASSADOR TO GREAT BRITAIN

Senator Kellogg A Supporter Of Proposal For U.S. Participation In World Court

Washington, Oct. 26—Frank R. Kellogg, former United States Senator from Minnesota, has been selected by President Coolidge as American Ambassador to Great Britain.

Formal announcement is withheld for the present, but the appointment is expected to become effective soon.

News that Mr. Kellogg had been chosen to succeed George Harvey created a stir at the Capitol. Senators generally declined to comment on the selection, but some of them made little effort to conceal their surprise. Heretofore Mr. Kellogg's name had not been mentioned prominently in connection with the Ambassadorship.

White House and State Department officials declined to discuss the selection, the only comment being that the President felt the time had not yet come when an announcement of the appointment could be made.

After a service of six years in the Senate Mr. Kellogg was a candidate for re-election last November, but was defeated by 80,000 votes in the political upheaval in the Northwest which has swept two Farmer-Labor Senators into office from his State and resulted in the election from other States of Senators who have been prominent in the non-partisan league. Throughout his political life Mr. Kellogg has stood against these political tendencies. He has been a regular of the regulars in the Republican party and was a close personal friend of the late President Harding. Unlike Ambassador Harvey, who is regarded as a "bitter ender" in the League of Nations controversy, Mr. Kellogg was counted among the mild reservationists in the Senate fight over the Treaty of Versailles. He also was a supporter in the Senate and since his retirement of President Harding's proposal for United States participation in the world court.

FINDS PERFECT MANHOOD FLOURISHING IN AUSTRALIA

Brisbane, Oct. 26—Archbishop Dubig, in a public address delivered on his return to Queensland, after visiting America, said that as a result of very careful observation on his part, and on the part of men whose opinion he valued very highly, he could emphatically declare that Australia was really developing physically and intellectually a race of giants.

To those who only saw life in Australian cities, said the Archbishop, the truth of this statement might not be apparent, but it soon became intelligible to those who visited the country districts and saw the youths and maidens out of their parents' physical and intellectual, growing big and strong on the broad acres which saw their native habitat, breathing the free, fresh air of an atmosphere so pure that one actually revelled in it. That was the raw material of

Visitors To Gothenburg, Sweden, Exposition Are Treated To An Unusual Experience

Trollhattan Falls, Sweden, Oct. 26—Climbing mountains in a ship was the unusual experience of many American visitors to the Gothenburg exposition when they made the trip over the historic Gotha Canal from Gothenburg to Stockholm.

Marine locks in flights of five or six carry tourist ships through granite hills from river to lake, until the canal reaches an altitude of more than 300 feet in the highlands of picturesque southern Sweden, and then the ships begin their trip down stairs until they make their way to the level of the Baltic Sea, and, after a short voyage on the open sea, finally enter lakes again and slip into the back door of Stockholm through fresh water.

It takes two and a half days to make the inland journey of 850 miles from Gothenburg to Stockholm. The actual canal is only 54 miles long, but 53 locks are passed in avoiding the falls in rivers and ascending to high lakes in the interior.

Fifty miles of the trip is through the Gotha River, and here at Trollhattan Falls the canal passes around the celebrated falls which give southern Sweden much of its electrical power and are the seat of some of its greatest industrial concerns. Here is the great plant which supplied the Bolshevik government with 500 locomotives, and recently sent 125 locomotives to Argentina.

In the early days of the Bolshevik government, when Lomonosoff was in charge of the effort to re-equip the Russian railways, Sweden was given a contract for 1,000 locomotives. This plan was dangled before the eyes of other industrial nations by Bolshevik leaders, who jeered at them for their failure to recognize Russia and share in the great profits promised from participation in its rehabilitation. The Swedes insisted on having gold in advance on the locomotive order. Five hundred were finally completed and delivered. Then the work stopped although the Swedish manufacturers still had Russian money which had been advanced for materials. The Swedes altered the plans for the locomotives to meet the needs of the Argentine railways, and are today carrying on a lively business with the South American republic which has enabled the manufacturers to return to Russia its advances on cancelled orders.

Gotha Canal was originally begun in 1800, when the Trollhattan Falls were successfully locked. The complete waterway between Gothenburg and Stockholm was first opened in 1832.

The worth of a thing is best known by the want.

COULD HARDLY DO ANY WORK

But Since Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound This Woman Feels So Well

Keesville, N.Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly for the good it has done me. I was so much troubled with female weakness I could hardly do any work. My female troubles have vanished and I have never felt so well. The Liver Pills are the best I ever took. MUSIC CLUBS IN CONVENTION

Will Inaugurate Four Years' Course Of Study To Attain Higher Standards

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 26—Promoting higher cultural standards in music, following the organization's decision to inaugurate a four years' course of study on the understanding and appreciation of music, the National Federation of Music Clubs, through its more than 1,500 chapters in the United States, "has taken another step in the right direction," according to Helen Harrison Mills, national chairman of publicity headquarters here.

An outline of the course is being prepared for distribution by Mrs. Frank A. Seiberling of Akron, Ohio, chairman of the department, the announcement said, and will be designed especially for adoption by choral societies or the large clubs mainly interested in presenting afternoon or evening recitals. Special honors will be given clubs completing two years of the course at the Portland, Oregon, biennial in 1925, and greater recognition paid to those finishing the entire four years' course at the 1927 biennial.

Equal emphasis in the organization's work is to be placed upon the plan to give the American musical artist the same footing with foreign artists on the concert program sponsored by the music clubs. The federation at its last convention resolved to engage at least fifty per cent American artists in the future.

Another field of musical endeavor was opened in the decision to institute a department of music in industry, with Miss Ruth Antoinette Sabel, head of the Bureau of Industrial Music, in charge. Instructions to each of the units urging them to redouble their efforts to obtain legislation looking toward the establishment of a National Conservatory of Music, have been issued, according to the announcement, and also that the federation's committee on legislation continue to seek the active cooperation of all other national associations already in being. Steps toward this end, have a simplified bill introduced in congress to provide for the appointment of a commission of 21 persons representing all classes and phases of music in order that when the Conservatory is organized it will be broadly democratic.

ROOSEVELT HOME FULL OF RELICS

Souvenirs Of The Exploits Of The Former President On Exhibition In Residence

New York, Oct. 26—A huge stuffed lion, bagged in one of his hunting expeditions, a trying pan, a cartoon by Tom Nast, are only three diversified articles of the hundreds of manuscripts, pictures and mementoes of all sorts which have gravitated to Roosevelt House, the restored birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt at No. 28 East 20th St., Manhattan. The house is to be dedicated October 27.

A set of scrapbooks giving the career of Mr. Roosevelt, as told from day to day in the press, is one of the notable additions to be received by the Roosevelt Association during the last year. This set of books was started by the President's father, continued by himself, and concluded by members of his family. In it are some passages in Roosevelt's own handwriting, as well as a number of letters he wrote while at Harvard.

Supplementing the original cartoon of Theodore Roosevelt drawn by Nast for Harper's Weekly in 1882 and later presented by the famous exposé of the "Tweed Ring" to the President, are many other cartoons from foreign and American pens graphically recording Roosevelt's colorful career. Dwight Franklin's miniature plastic group of Roosevelt, his son Kermit, and gun bearers hunting in South Africa is a unique addition to the collection. The figures in this group are six inches high and have been colored and set in a miniature stage. The group is strikingly realistic.

The cradle in which one of the outstanding figures of history was rocked, and his last public message also have been incorporated in the collection. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., wife of the present Assistant Secretary of the Navy, presented the cradle. The message, a letter to Richard M. Hurd, was donated by his recipient.

Six hundred bound volumes of back numbers of the New York Herald, Times and World covering an important stage of Mr. Roosevelt's life, were presented by Frank A. Munsey, publisher of the Herald. A costly riding outfit, the gift of the Brazilian government at the time of the Colonel's River of Doubt expedition is there.

And reposing with manuscripts of articles which appeared in the Outlook is the frying pan the man with the "Big Stick" used 40 years ago when he and W. W. (Bill) Seawall, guide, hunted in Maine.

WILD BUFFALO FIND SANCTUARY IN CANADA

"I Now Feel Fine"
Mrs. P. G. Murdoch, Box 433, Portage la Prairie, Man., writes:
"I was troubled for years with biliousness, constipation, kidney and liver troubles. I tried many different kinds of medicine, but nothing did me much good until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I now feel fine, but am never without these pills in the house. Dr. Chase's Ointment has relieved my husband of piles, from which he used to suffer badly."

The Dominion government. The entire habitat of the two herds has been enclosed in the sanctuary. It is heavily timbered and includes several mountain ranges, lakes and rivers. The area of the new park is 10,500 square miles. Throughout the park cabins have been built for wardens which will facilitate an efficient patrol service the year round. Existence of these wild herds in the Great Slave Lake country has been vaguely known for years, but their numbers were never estimated above 250 until a year ago when a government survey party saw the herds and by rough count figured the total as 1,500 animals. The only other known herd of wild buffalo in the world is in the remotest fastnesses of Yellowstone park and numbers not more than 100 animals. With the largest number of wild buffalo, Canada boasts also the largest buffalo herd in the government park at Wainwright, the largest game preserve under fence in the world. The Wainwright herd now numbers more than 8,000. Two thousand bulls on the Wainwright range will be slaughtered this fall as of no value to herd propagation and to conserve pasturage. Their meat will be marketed in the United States and Canada and a large part of it made into pemmican for distribution among Arctic trading and fur posts. The possession of a child is the biggest investment life offers.

A SIMPLE COLONIAL HOME

DESIGNED BY CHAS. S. SEDGWICK

THIS home here illustrated is one that should appeal to many, as it is planned on very simple lines, and true colonial in its details. It gives the maximum amount of floor space, at a minimum cost, while the floor plan arrangement is very convenient. It is all frame construction, with wide siding painted white, green shutters, green asphalt shingle roof, which together with the red colonial brick used as a soldier course of brick at grade, gives a most pleasing color combination. Concrete foundation, oak floors throughout, tile in bath and first floor toilet, linoleum in kitchen, with birch trim throughout ivory enameled, with stair treads and rail birch stained mahogany. Size 36x24, basement 7-6; first floor 9 feet, second story 8 feet, with stairway to attic where good storage space is obtained. This home is now building in Minneapolis at a cost of $7,500 or without heating and plumbing for $6,000.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE SHOWED GREATER ACTIVITY

PRICES CONTINUED TO DROP ON THE NEW YORK MARKET SOME REACHING LOW LEVEL

Some Issues Held Relatively Firm But Sporadic Selling Brought Others Down To Record Low Prices—Sharp Recovery In Foreign Exchanges Yesterday

New York, Oct. 26.—Stock prices continued to melt away in today's quiet stock market with the average of 29 leading industrial stocks sinking to a new low level for the year. The so-called pivotal stocks such as steel, Baldwin, Studebaker and American Can. again held relatively firm but sporadic selling pressure broke out in tobaccos, sugars, rubbers and certain specialties, many of which broke through their previous low prices of the year.

Cabled reports that France, Belgium and Italy had accepted with reservations Lord Curzon's proposal for a reparations conference failed to stimulate trading in stocks but it brought about a very sharp recovery in the foreign exchanges.

Demand sterling advanced 2 3/8 cents to $4.50, buying of these bills also being influenced by Premier Baldwin's denial that any inflationary policy had or would be considered. French francs advanced 16 1/2 points to 5.93 cents; Belgian francs moved up 17 1/2 points to 6.13c and German marks sold as high as 1.60 a billion, or just double the rate quoted earlier in the day.

Chief activity in the stock market centered in Famous Players which opened 5 5/8 lower at 60, sagged to 52 1/2 and then rallied feebly to 63 1/4 for a net loss of 12 3/8 points on the day. Selling of this issue was based on the announcement that production of new pictures would be suspended for the time being and reports of new financing.

Speculators for the decline also succeeded in touching off a number of stop loss orders in such issues as American Woolen which closed 3-4 points lower at 67 1/4 after having held as low as 65 5/8; American Tobacco, off 5 3/8 at 147 and Davison Chemical off 2 at 46.

U.S. Rubber common and first preferred touched new 1923 lows but made up nearly all their losses later.

Conglomerate Woolworth broke through to a new peak price, the day's net gains being 3 and 4 1/4 points respectively. Pressed Steel Car was another strong spot losing more than 3 points higher. Commission houses again reported that the major activity was in the hands of professional interests although buying by so-called "bargain hunters" has substantially increased in the last few days.

Call money opened at 1 1/4 per cent. and advanced to five in the last hour. The time money market was dull with maturities up to four months available at five per cent and 5 1/4 being asked for the longer dates. The bulk of prime commercial paper continues to move at 1 1/4 per cent.

Total stock sales $92,000 shares.
20 Industrials averaged $6.01; net loss .42. High 1923, 105.33; low $6.01.
20 railroads averaged $0.26; net loss .31. High 1923, 90.51; low 79.53.

Daily Gossip On Leading Stocks

Every Canadian bought $73 of American goods in the U. S. trade year, that ended June 30th. American exports to this country averaged that for every man, woman and child, in Canada.

Cuba bought $24 per capita and Mexico, the other near neighbour of the U. S. A., only $8 per capita, due to the lower standard of living among the masses of Mexican people.

The West Indies and Central America averaged $11 per capita. As compared with these high figures, the per capita takings of American goods throughout the world, were only slightly over $2 European nations took $5 per capita of American goods, and Asiatic nations $0.50 per capita. Thus the average Canadian family consumes more American goods than a sizeable village in India or the population of an entire city block in some European towns.

E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and chairman of the Financial Federation will be the principal speaker at the first campaign rally of the Federation to be held to-morrow evening in the Salle Doree of the Mount Royal Hotel at 8.15 o'clock, to launch the drive which begins on Monday next General Eric McQuigg, chairman of the campaign committee, will preside.

There is a distinct possibility that Baldwin Canadian Steel Corporation, Limited, which owns the old war-time electro-smelting plant on Ashbridge's Bay, will reopen early next year. This company is a subsidiary of the British Baldwin Company of which the present British Premier is head.

An executive of the Canadian Company, states that two of the English directors will arrive in Canada early next month to consider the whole situation, and it is quite probable that certain reorganization will be carried out and the plant reopened early next year.

One point raised in Toronto is the ultimate fate of Canadian General Electric subsidiaries, particularly the Canadian Allis-Chalmers Company, with its four plants at Toronto, Montreal, Bridgeburg and Stratford, which were largely expanded in war time and are somewhat unprofitable now.

General Electric Company has two factories at Peterboro and Toronto in addition to its Tunstun and carbon lamp works at Toronto. At present there is an agreement whereby Canadian General Electric has perpetual and exclusive rights to manufacture American General Electric apparatus in Canada and Newfoundland.

Followers of the Canadian stock markets who have been watching a process of decline in prices of securities since last March are wondering when a turn in the market is coming. They feel that a good deal depends on general business conditions. If that is so, then the stock markets should do better. There must be a lot of money in Canada because no loan appears too big to be absorbed.

A very large proportion of the $475,000,000 in Canadian bonds sold this year to date has been taken up by the Canadian people. The country has a record wheat yield, and the output of other farm products has been large. The British market has taken care of a large part of the Canadian surplus of wheat. Flour exports for the last twelve months aggregated 11,000,000 barrels, a new high record. The year has been a very active one in building and construction, with the result that manifold associated industries have done good business.

Lumbering operations in the bush, both for building and pulp process, will continue on a large scale this winter, because lumber yards throughout the country have been pretty well sold up. The paper industry is expanding steadily with a large increase shown in exports.

The mining industry of Northern Ontario never so active and machinery and tool companies have benefited materially thereby. The steel companies of the country are busy, while the large equipment companies have had large orders to fill, and anticipate more business from railways, etc. For most of them, men are willing to work there in employment. There appears to be little reason for pessimism.

"The decline in the stock market since last March seems correctly to have been forecasting a period of lesser activity in business. The security market has readjusted itself in advance to such an outcome, and there would now appear to be no happenings ahead to cause anything like sharp breaks or serious conditions for securities," says F. S. Bache and Company in the current issue of the Bache Review, just to hand.

"On the contrary, prices of securities, in some lines of business, have more than discounted eventualities. The present irregular movements of the market at the lower levels, and the dullness now prevailing, would seem to presage similar phenomena in the business field later on and for some more or less extended period.

"There is nothing in the situation to prevent discriminating investment in proven and permanent dividend payers, which, at present prices, show good income yield."

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Provincial Bank of Canada will take place at the head office of the bank, 7 Place d'Armes, on Wednesday, February 6th, 1924, the chair to be taken at 12 noon.

Notice is given that a special dividend of 1 1/2 per cent being at the rate of nine per cent per annum, upon the fully paid shares of the capital stock of the bank, has been declared for the two months ending November 30th, 1923.

Fire At Levis
Three or four families were rendered homeless and several thousands of dollars loss sustained by the rather serious fire that visited Levis yesterday afternoon. It caused a brilliant reflection yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, and being upon the heights directly opposite the city, the flames attracted much attention in town. From along the wharves and river front there was a speedy rush of people for the ferry boat. When the visitors reached the scene of the conflagration, the residence of Mr. P. Thiboutot carriage building, on St. Paul street, was found to be in flames. The carriage factory and blacksmith shop, belonging to the same party had already been destroyed. The next building to fall a prey to the flames was a two-story dwelling occupied by C. Alain and Philippe Plourde. This was also completely destroyed. Most of the tenants' effects were saved by neighbors. Mr. Thiboutot's loss includes his residence, carriage factory, blacksmith's forge and shops, besides some twenty-five vehicles of different kinds and $67 in cash. He estimates his loss at between $12,000 and $13,000. He had an

A New Pontiff.
New York, October 14.—The choice of a new pontiff under present circumstances becomes a very important political event; for the new successor of St. Peter having always much influence in the Catholic countries of the Peninsula and the provinces dependent thereon, the members of the Holy Alliance ought to join all their efforts to make the election fall to the lot of a Prelate whose influence will not be of the most liberal order. Without doubt the nomination will lead to results which will either displease the members of the Holy Alliance or be to them a great support in sustaining their system.

The most difficult question to decide is that of the rivalry between the members of the Congress of Vienna. The Pope to be elected will be French, Russian, Austrian, or Prussian or finally, English. But everyone knows that in the Sacred College of Cardinals there are none but France and Austria who have great influence there, and the new Pope will be either French or Austrian. It may, however, possibly be that the Roman Cardinals who are a majority, will form an opposition party, and cause the choice to fall on one of their fellow citizens. So the death of the Pope presents a new aspect in European diplomacy the result of which appears difficult to foresee.

Home-Making Helps.
Correct Lighting Makes Our Homes More Attractive.
(By WANDA BARTON)
HOME lighting today, is an art and those who are teaching it are using primers, advanced booklets, leaflets and questionnaires of several kinds to aid all who are seeking for the right light. The use of artificial light is a new thing in the home and gloom and glare. Gloom which tends to depression is caused by too little or too heavily shaded light. Glare, which blinds the eyes and gets on one's nerves, is from too-strong and improperly shaded light. Both conditions can be easily met when we know how to use light properly.

Of all the fittings of a home light is the easiest to bend to the will where electric current may be used. When rightly used it brings out the best in every room where it is employed in a brilliant or a pleasantly subdued form.

When side-wall brackets are used lamps of fifteen watt power may be selected. These can be shielded with half-circular glass shades in delicate tints or by the fancy-shaped mica shapes which come in amethyst, old rose, delicate green, blue or amber tints, or with attractive parchment shades. There are many forms of fancy paper shades also, but perhaps the newest thing is the shade of mica rose, surrounded by soft green leaves, which may be bent in any way liked about the bulb. The roses are in natural colors, are durable and dainty and may be readily cleaned with a damp cloth.

In lighting a hall or dome light in the centre of a living or dining room a fifty or seventy-five watt white bulb will be needed. The shade will soften and diffuse the light properly if the right kind is chosen. Frosted bulbs help in diffusing the light of shadows which when cast in used places, make the lighting seem very imperfect. To cast your shadow on the music on the piano that you are trying to read, across the letter paper you are trying to write upon or over the contents of the closet when you open the door to find something is most annoying and unnecessary.

When wiring a house for electric lighting there are some things that should not be forgotten. For instance, it costs little to put one light in each closet and have it controlled by the opening and closing of the door. The comfort of this arrangement far outweighs the trifling cost entailed. Then there are the lights to be turned on at the foot of the cellar stairs before descending into the gloom below, the porch ceiling-light manipulated from the inner hall, lighting a corner.

Floor connections should be arranged for a vacuum cleaner in every room and the holls. Light should be provided over the kitchen range and over the ice chest, connections for side and floor lamps and last but not least, there should be an arrangement in the bathroom whereby opening and closing the door will operate the main light. This is an economy for there is no use in having the room lighted when unoccupied.
